This modern work in stained glass, now widely known as “the proverb window” was created in 1974 as the Ivy Bush Royal Hotel’s contribution to the Royal National Eisteddfod of Wales. It also commemorates the hotels historical connection with the festival, for it was in the grounds here in 1819 that Iolo Morgannwg set up the first Gorsedd circle of Bards in Wales. More information on this stunning window is hanging on the wall next to the bar.

This receipt is over 100 years old from the 17th June 1905 for a John Francis esquire. One Hundred Years Prior to this receipt the hotel was extensively used as a coach station for regular services running between Gloucester and Carmarthen, that is why our logo has a horse drawn carriage to commemorate the history of the hotel
